RSVP

We're still working out the event details, so please come back and RSVP when you get your invitation!

In the meantime, we're collecting contact info for sharing important updates (like if there's a rain delay).

We promise not to spam you. 😊

graph TD; Name[Name [Input]] --> Question[Do you prefer to get updates via email or text?]; Question --> EmailRadio[○ Email [Radio]]; Question --> TextRadio[○ Text [Radio]]; Question --> BothRadio[○ Both [Radio]]; EmailRadio --> EmailInput[Email [Input]]; TextRadio --> TextInput[Text [Input]]; BothRadio --> BothInputs[Email [Input] Text [Input]]; EmailInput --> Submit[Submit [Button]]; TextInput --> Submit; BothInputs --> Submit;
```

The diagram illustrates the flow of an RSVP form. It begins with a 'Name [Input]' field. Below this is the question 'Do you prefer to get updates via email or text?'. This question leads to three radio button options: '○ Email [Radio]', '○ Text [Radio]', and '○ Both [Radio]'. Each option has a corresponding input field: 'Email [Radio]' leads to 'Email [Input]', 'Text [Radio]' leads to 'Text [Input]', and 'Both [Radio]' leads to a combined field containing 'Email [Input]' and 'Text [Input]'. All three input paths converge at a final 'Submit [Button]' field.
